fantry Was "Slashed to Pieces" by Shellfire

Berlin Claims Gains

Says Austrian Forces Captured Six Officers and 170
Men

LONDON, Feb. 12.—The battle on the eastern edge of the Asiago Plateau, in Northern Italy, continued all day yesterday. The main efforts of the invaders, to reconquer the dominating heights at the head of the Frenzella Valley, met with as complete failure as they did on the previous day, according to Rome.

The most desperate struggle of the day centered on the southern slopes of Monte Sasso Rosso, midway between the Frenzella and the Upper Brenta. The Italian War Office asserts that the enemy pushed forward "important infantry forces," but that they were located by the Italian artillery and slashed to pieces by shellfire before they could develop any vital action.

The Berlin communiqué, on the other hand, claims certain successes for the Austrians in their attacks on Sasso Rosso, declaring that the Italian support positions were cleared and that six officers and 170 men were captured. Lively fighting continued throughout the day on the whole plateau, the statement adds.

Meanwhile, far to the south, the Austrians made a bold attempt to force their way across the Piave, at Zenson, where for several weeks last fall they clung to a bridgehead on the western bank. The bridge, however, was "driven back into the water" by the Italian artillery fire, the Rome statement asserts. East of Cortellazzo, in the Piave delta, Italian naval detachments captured arms and ammunition from the enemy. One Austrian aeroplane was brought down during the day.

In the afternoon, according to the Rome report, heavy fighting subsided and the situation became normal again. However, it is apparent that the Austro-Germans are making a determined and sustained effort to improve their front between the Brenta and Asiago, in order to render easier an advance down the Frenzella Valley to the Venetian plain, and an early resumption of the battle is expected. So far the Italians, supported by the artillery forces of their allies, have parried the first violent blows with every sign of success.

General Bandholtz was recently commissioned as brigadier general, and was promoted from colonel. He had been doctor there since the time that Lieutenant M. M. Munsell, of the ammunition train, be detailed as his aid, is granted.

The 29th Division is composed of volunteer troops from New Jersey, Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia.

Sick Soldiers Are Knitting

Men at Camp Dix Fashion Socks; Deserter Sentenced

CAMP DIX, N. J., Feb. 12.—Soldiers convalescing in the base hospital here are now knitting for soldiers. Through the Y. M. C. A., a number of small table looms were installed at the hospital. With them, soldiers can turn a knitted sock in about an hour. The attending doctors declare that the work is the best that the men can do, as it is creative and furnishes exactly the mental stimulus they need.

Claude C. Thomas, of Florence, N. J., a member of Company H, 11th Infantry, stationed at Camp McClellan, Annapolis, Md., was found guilty by a court martial here of desertion. He was sentenced to 10 years at the Federal prison at Atlanta, and will be dishonorably discharged at the end of that time, forfeiting all his pay as well.

Members of the New Jersey Legislature are expected here to-morrow. They will witness an exhibition by the tank Britannia.

Wise Wood Did Not Sanction
Destruction of Statue

The Tribune in its issue of February 11 misquoted Henry A. Wise Wood when it reported him as sanctioning the melting down of the statue of Frederick the Great, now in front of the War College, for bullets.

"I do not believe in the destruction of works of art," Mr. Wood writes, "even under the stress of war. It is my opinion that the bronze should be preserved and let remain where it is. It teaches two lessons. One, that we sadly need to learn—one, that a gift is an evidence of good will on the part of the donor; the other, that war is an art and must be learned in advance of its use, as Frederick told us."

Munich, Jealous of Berlin,
Wants British Tank, Too

AMSTERDAM, Jan. 16 (By Mail).—Jealous of Berlin's possession of a British tank, Bavaria is demanding that Munich must have a tank like the one now on exhibition in the Prussian capital. To this demand the "Neueste Nachrichten" of Munich, adds:

"We want one in good condition, too, because the people of Munich will not be satisfied unless they can see the wheels go round."

Faction Severs Connection With Government Over Ceding of Province to Ukraine

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 12.—The Vienna correspondent of the Berlin "Tageblatt" reports that the Polish Club has severed its connection with the government because the Polish province of Cholm was assigned to Ukraine in the peace treaty.

The Austrian government, the dispatch says, is now opposed by a united bloc of Poles, Czechs and Southern Slavs.
